La Motte Wine Estate, R45, Main Rd

INK ON PAPER

JH Pierneef is considered as one of the earliest printmakers in South Africa and his linocuts, familiar to those who frequent the estate, served as inspiration for the exhibition on printmaking.

Ink on Paper focuses on introducing the four main printmaking techniques: relief, intaglio, planographic and stencil.

Included on show a selection of 20 etchings by Rembrandt van Rijn from the Rupert and Rembrandt Collections. As well as prints by South African printmakers representing the other three techniques and artists include: Walter Battiss, Deborah Bell, Gillian Condy, Hilary Graham, Pauline Gutter, John Manning, John Muafangejo, Gerhard Marx, Joshua Miles, Karel Nel, Bonnie Ntshali, Cecil Skotnes, Pippa Skotnes, Velile Soha, Irma Stern and Margaret Vorster. The selection is on loan from the Rupert Art Foundation, SA Print Gallery and various individual artists.

4. FRANSCHHOEK CELLAR

R45, Main Road

BRUCE LITTLE

Self-taught and instinctual, Bruce Little sculpts to capture the spirit of the wild African creatures he has observed and guarded for most of his life as a Game Ranger and Conservationist in the South African Bushveld. His technique captures in bronze the essential movement and attitudes of his subjects.

Off the back of his recent successful exhibition in London, Little will be showing a number of bronze sculptures at Franschhoek Cellar ranging from a delicate Sunbird, to a larger than life size Lion. For an unrivalled experience of the African bushveld these sculptures allow those who have visited or live on the continent to own a piece of this remarkable and mysterious place.

6. THE BLUE LION GALLERY AT ARTEMIS

37 Uitkyk Street

ANDREA DESMOND-SMITH, HENK SCHOLTZ & MARINDA DU TOIT

For the last two years Andrea Desmond-Smith and Henk Scholtz have exhibited in the Blue Lion Gallery at Artemis during the Franschhoek Art Festival. This year they have invited Marinda Du Toit to exhibit with them. Du Toit is well known for her quirky and witty 'dolls' made out of recycled materials. Surprising combinations give rise to intriguing results.

Desmond-Smith is exhibiting a few small tempera and oils with the theme of horses and gardens, while Scholtz's decorative paintings are well known to the art buying public.

All items on the exhibition were created during the past year. Also open at the same time is a small shop featuring arts, crafts, crystals, junk and Artemis olives!

Opening hours: Mon-Sun 12h00-18h00

DESTABILIZING THE OBJECT BY HUGH BYRNE

Hugh Byrne's latest body of work unveils hidden shapes and forms that lie unassumingly just below the surface of the landscapes that surround us. Combining bold colour, texture and geometric planes Byrne illustrates the tensions between geometry and abstraction, structure and dynamism in unexpected and refreshing ways.

INTUITION FEE BY LARITA ENGELBRECHT

Combining discordant images of translucent jellyfish, zebra stripes, the curves of a Henry Moore sculpture and the hard lines of concrete architecture, Larita Engelbrecht blends distinctive visual elements in unexpected ways to create images which both intrigue and delight. "Intuition Fee" combines an intuitive collage practice with the rich traditions of oil painting.

Opening hours: Mon-Sun 09h30-18h00

14. ODA

42 Huguenot Street

3 COUNTRIES | 3 ROOMS | 3 ARTISTS

ODA participates in ART Franschhoek with exhibitions by 3 artists who feature as part of the gallery's summer programme: Thonton Kabeya, Gerald Chukwuma, Samson Mnisi.

Thonton Kabeya was born in the Democratic Republic of Congo. He has participated in numerous exhibitions in South Africa, Europe and the U.S. Thonton's artworks are influenced by his childhood memories of the Congo, this year's solo show revolves around lightness & playfulness.

Samson Mnisi a South African visual artist who has had numerous group (Biennale Brazil, Uganda) and solo exhibitions, locally and internationally (e.g., Museum of Contemporary African Art, New York), presents a series of ink on paper works.

Gerald Chukwuma is one of Nigeria's fastest rising contemporary artists noted for his intricately crafted wood-slate sculptures. Using a multitude of techniques, his unique approach to burning, chiselling, and painting common materials captures a richly layered history embedded with personal and political meaning.

Opening hours: Mon-Sun 09h00-17h00

15. KIM DONALDSON

38 Huguenot Street

Kim Donaldson Gallery will be featuring the latest works by Kim Donaldson, Kirsty May Hall, Sarah Fynn and the latest artist to join our gallery, Brett Williams.

Kim Donaldson is an internationally recognised wildlife painter known for his atmospheric works of all things Africa. In addition to his latest bronze collection, Kim's beautifully painted depictions of Kenya's Maasai tribe will be on display.

Kirsty May Hall never disappoints with her energetic contemporary acrylic paintings of birds. You can feel Kirsty's love for the subject that is conveyed through her colourful and graphic style.

Sarah Fynn illustrates her incredible ability to capture the ambiance of the rivers, gorges, skies, kopjies and stretching landscapes of Zimbabwe. Through her brilliant use of colour and loosely painted mixed media, Sarah provides us an insight into her inspiring perception of Africa.

Brett Williams is a self-taught, colour-blind artist and professional actor offering this intriguing collection, State of Our House. The multi-faceted talent has put forth his first works in an oil medium with stunning visuals of dilapidated buildings.

MARIE STANDER SOLO SHOW

We are honoured to present Marie Stander's solo show for the 2018/19 art franschhoek season in our gallery in the very centre of the Franschhoek village.

The new solo show by Marie is on view at the manzart gallery in the high street from the 27 October 2018 onwards. Marie joined our stable of artists with her first solo show over a decade ago. best known for her figurative charcoal drawings, Marie's body of a selected small number of large scale portraits and group drawings, near life size drawings and reduced size prints will take over the main gallery space.

These enchanting and simply outstanding works convey Marie's positive energy and outlook with which she 'sees' her subjects. Marie Stander has a large and fast growing following throughout South Africa's collector community and ever more increasing throughout the world - her works can be found in most of the main African corporate and private collections and many international ones too. the prestigious Sanlam Private Collection acquired several of her works.

She recently was finalist in the top 40 from the National Sanlam Portrait Competition - and Marie also had the great opportunity to produce a portrait commission for archbishop Desmond Tutu in 2015.

In addition the manzart collection will show works by collage artists karin miller and caitlin truman-baker, amazing pencil drawings by david filer, vintage newspaper and map artist lisette forsyth, donna mckellar and zoe mafham's collage works as well as sculptor vincent da silva with his wildlife works. also new artists daya heller, adele potgieter, berdine van der mescht, mila posthumus, miranda crooks, marcelle sprong and eddy ochieng. A feast for any contemporary art lover in the months to come in our gallery space awaits.

WHISPERS FROM THE LILY POND by Shany van den Berg

27 October - 19 November

This exhibition 'Whispers from the Lily pond/Fluisteringe vanaf n Lelie poel' is the first platform for a series, that reflects on rebirth through water, water spirits, and Nymphaea (water lilies).

The body of works is mapped, woven, stitched and dressed to awaken the Nymphaea from a deep hibernation to play and dance with the water deities.

"My memories of water and lilies (from childhood to present day) drove my practice conceptually as I found myself spending days in the Stellenbosch Botanical Gardens. This initiated painterly and drawing based experiments and research - in essence it served to manifest my lilies and water spirit through documenting my thoughts as they are mirrored back to me on the watery reflections." - Shany van den Berg

This exhibition will be opened with a performance by the artist. Please join us for the opening of "Whispers from the Lily Pond" at 11h00 at Everard Read Franschhoek.

21. THE BOUTIQUE GALLERY

Heritage Square, 9 Huguenot Street

In it's third year of existence The Boutique Gallery has managed to become a group of galleries on it's own.

Established in the beautiful village of Franschhoek (next to Marigold Restaurant), The Boutique Gallery needed only one year to open up a second space in Camps Bay and another year to open their first gallery in Europe - Belgium. Offering a variety of artists that have everything they need to conquer the world.

South African artists like Samuel Allerton, Heike Davies, Sarah Danes-Jarrett, Uwe Pfaff and Anton Smit go hand in hand with European artists like Isabelle Scheltjens and Alexandre de Poplavsky.

Quirky and trendy, always aiming to bring happiness to the world. While in Franschhoek and when visiting one gallery - visit us! When visiting two galleries - visit us twice!
